Subject: Recommendation for Unnati: A Student-Led Initiative Empowering India's Future

To Whom It May Concern,

As a member of the Rebuilding India Initiative at the University of California, Berkeley, I take great pride in recommending Unnati, a remarkable student-led organisation dedicated to empowering underprivileged students across India through education and career guidance.

Unnati exemplifies the spirit of youth-led innovation that lies at the heart of India's rebuilding journey. The initiative has successfully conducted over 50 sessions across government schools in 6 states, directly impacting more than 6,500 students. Through these sessions, Unnati has helped students from low-income backgrounds discover educational and professional opportunities they were previously unaware of.

Beyond physical outreach, Unnati's digital platform hosts over 50 curated opportunities including scholarships, skill development programs, online learning tools, freelancing platforms, and resources on AI literacy and life skills. This sustained, technology-enabled effort ensures that guidance extends beyond classrooms and reaches students nationwide, empowering them to pursue education, employment, and self-sufficiency.

Unnati's mission resonates deeply with the Rebuilding India Initiative's goal of fostering equitable access to knowledge and opportunity. It represents the new generation of changemakers: young individuals who are not just identifying problems but actively designing scalable, sustainable solutions for India's socio-economic transformation.

I wholeheartedly recommend Unnati to NGOs, government institutions, and schools seeking to provide their students with structured guidance and real-world exposure. Supporting Unnati means investing in India's most valuable resource: its youth.
